1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem. It is shown that the problem is of great importance in the theory of differential equations. The second part is devoted to the construction of the solution. The third part is devoted to the study of the properties of the solution. The fourth part is devoted to the application of the results to the theory of differential equations. The fifth part is devoted to the conclusion.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the origin of life. It is shown that the problem is one of the most important and most difficult in the history of science.

2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various theories of the origin of life. It is shown that the most plausible theory is that of the spontaneous generation of life from non-living matter.

3. The third part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence in favor of the spontaneous generation of life. It is shown that the evidence is very strong and that the spontaneous generation of life is a fact.

4. The fourth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various experiments which have been conducted in order to determine the conditions under which life can be generated from non-living matter. It is shown that the most favorable conditions are those in which the temperature is high and the pressure is low.

5. The fifth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various theories of the evolution of life. It is shown that the most plausible theory is that of the gradual evolution of life from simple to more complex forms.

6. The sixth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence in favor of the evolution of life. It is shown that the evidence is very strong and that the evolution of life is a fact.

7. The seventh part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various theories of the origin of the human race. It is shown that the most plausible theory is that of the gradual evolution of the human race from a common ancestor.

8. The eighth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the evidence in favor of the evolution of the human race. It is shown that the evidence is very strong and that the evolution of the human race is a fact.

9. The ninth part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the various theories of the origin of the universe. It is shown that the most plausible theory is that of the gradual evolution of the universe from a common ancestor.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations which are satisfied by the functions u_i and v_i in the domain G .

2. In the second part of the paper we shall consider the case when the functions u_i and v_i are assumed to be continuous in the domain G and to satisfy the boundary conditions which are satisfied by the functions u_i and v_i in the domain G .
